Dear Families,

Hall Refurbishment

I just wanted to write and say thank you so much if you supported the hall floor project and bought a tile or two or even more.

Over half term, you may have seen BBC news reporting on schools that are waiting for investment from the DfE, and how important the learning environment is for children. The past fifteen years have been a labour of love for myself and Mrs Lee, as well as the wider team involved, having refurbished every inch of the school. We have strived to ensure Stamford Green is the best it can be for the children and couldn't have done the last part without you and it is appreciated.

The transformation is amazing and I hope you will get to see it too, when you are in school for the parent/carer and teacher consultations over the next two weeks. Even if your appointments are in the Studio, please feel free to walk through the Hall.

There are some finishing touches to be made and then like the Forth Bridge myth, we will go back to where we started and continue to look after our school and nursery.

With gratitude,

Mrs Druce
Headteacher
