Welcome to the Wild Escape, a major new project uniting hundreds of museums in a celebration of this country's wildlife and creativity. The Wild Escape invites children ages 7-11 to their local museum where they will create an artwork around an animal in the collection. Their pictures will be brought together in a collective artwork on Earth Day. Led by Art Fund and supported by Arts Council England, the Wild Escape is an opportunity for the next generation to join in the conversation about biodiversity.

Bourne Hall Museum's animal is the Swan. So, turn up on April 15 for lots of free activities based around swans. There will be: Hearing storytime with tales and legends including the Ugly Duckling Making hands-on art with pictures, drawings, and paintings Meeting the Swan Queen and Swan Fairy to learn more about these fascinating birds and the mini-beasts you can find in the garden. Learning about Swan-upping and using swan feathers to draw their bill markings, write your name using the Victorian style of writing with pot hooks to add to the authenticity. Looking at the history of Swan-upping, the geographical areas, the crime linked to it, the markings, and statistics and how it helps us today.

April 29, 10pm to 4pm

Bourne Hall Museum is holding a Free Coronation Fete to commemorate the enthroning of our new king. There will be a Victorian village fete with Maypole dancing, Punch & Judy, drill with Victorian soldiers, an antique fire engine in action, Music Hall songs, and a children's Royal Fancy Dress competition. Queen Victoria and Prince Albert will be there along with a Victorian policeman, old-style school and heavy horses. Don't miss the gift market inside Bourne Hall!

We are looking for teams of eight to take part in our tug of war competition: anyone from schools, pubs, clubs or just a group of friends who want to have a go. There will also be a special competition for primary schools! Trophies will be awarded to the winners of the different groups
